CHARACTER

While the naked white initially tiptoes on the nose, it steps out on the palate with the entire foot. Its main protagonists, Pinot Blanc and Chardonnay, lend a creamy mouthfeel, while Welschriesling happily sweeps away any drinking resistance and tosses a twist of lemon zest into the glass. Unadulterated, straight forward and precise. Finely woven density without heaviness and perky, unfiltered charm comprise 750 millilitres that four people can drink in as many seconds. For best enjoyment, shake before you pour!

ORIGIN

The “naked white” is sourced from both sides of the Neusiedler See (Lake Neusiedl). On the west side, vines are rooted in the limestone and schist of the Leithaberg (Leitha Mountains) slopes – on the east side of the lake vines in the gravelly Parndorfer Platte (Parndorfer Plain) and humus-rich Heideboden.

GENESIS

Bottled with conscientious handcraft and great care throughout the entire life cycle. Biodynamic cultivation of the vineyards. Handpicked at the beginning of September and macerated with the stems overnight. Spontaneous and malolactic fermentation. Matured on its natural yeast lees in used large oak casks and bottled unfiltered with minimal sulphur.
